I can hear you, Thank you

from Cindy R Whitener to everyone: 1:22 PM

I am here, I had a hard time getting in. But now i just want to test the sound.... Can someone speak.

from Cindy R Whitener to everyone: 1:23 PM

Yes

from Cindy R Whitener to everyone: 1:23 PM

Thank you

from Jen Davel to everyone: 1:28 PM

Is someone talking? if so, I can't hear.

from Jen Davel to everyone: 1:29 PM

thank you, Carol. I heard you loud and clear.

from Keith Hales to everyone: 1:31 PM

The only way I was able to join is to click on the "join as guest" and then it worked in case you wanted to pass that on to the others trying to join.

to Eric Winschel (privately): 2:06 PM

Hi Eric, Since your project is located in East St. Louis have you looked into the River's Edge Historic Tax Credit? It is a non competitive historic tax credit eligible for certain locations within East St. Louis <https://dnrhistorical.illinois.gov/preserve/iHPA-tpc.html>

from Cindy Schneider to everyone: 2:18 PM

Sorry, does Cook County qualify since it borders Indiana only?

from Eric Winschel to everyone: 2:27 PM

Anna,

from Eric Winschel to everyone: 2:28 PM

Anna, thanks we have or will look at Rivers Edge HTC --

from Cindy Schneider to everyone: 2:30 PM

To verify, public school buildings qualify for priority #2?

from Jen Davel to everyone: 2:32 PM

when was this credit extended to? 12-31-28?

from Jen Davel to everyone: 2:32 PM

thanks much!

from Eric Winschel (privately): 2:36 PM

Anna, is the Rivers Edge a rolling application process or is there a timeline and federal NPS etc?

from Cindy R Whitener to everyone: 2:41 PM

The Screen Capture will not provide a date so how do we determine if the screen print is dated within 12 months.

to Eric Winschel (privately): 2:45 PM

Hi Eric, there is no time frame or application deadlines associated with the Rivers Edge credit. But you will need to make sure your project's location is within the East St. Louis River's Edge Zone. I will send you the contact info that we have for the East St. Louis zone

to Eric Winschel (privately): 2:46 PM

For more information about the East St. Louis RERZ, contact:

Shaneal R. Clayborne, MA, MA.Ed

from Eric Winschel (privately): 2:48 PM

Thanks Anna, we believe we are in the zone but will confirm. I assume if we qualify and receive the Tax Credits we would not be eligible for further credits based on todays seminar? right?

from Eric Winschel (privately): 2:52 PM

Thanks Anna,

to Eric Winschel (privately): 2:52 PM

That is correct. The River's Edge Credit does not require this complicated application process, because the program does not have a programmatic cap or a per/project cap!

So the CPA signs off on the certification whether construction has commenced or not? What about estimated QRE's I think I missed this. Or maybe I did not understand. I guess I need to know how to handle the part3 cost certification with the CPA section if the QRE are still at the estimated stage.

from Anna Margaret Barris to everyone: 3:12 PM

Hi Cindy, this is after your project has been completed and your Part 3 has been approved by NPS.

from Cindy R Whitener to everyone: 3:12 PM

Thanks Anna

from Cindy R Whitener to everyone: 3:14 PM

So this is after the project has been placed in service?

from Kristen McSparren to everyone: 3:14 PM

Do projects with 0 priorities ever get an allocation?

from Cindy R Whitener to everyone: 3:15 PM

Got it so this makes more sense to me now thank you for the clarification.

from Kristen McSparren to everyone: 3:17 PM

That's a helpful discussion about priorities and allocations. Thank you!

from Keith Hales to everyone: 3:21 PM

thank you for the response!

from Cindy Schneider to everyone: 3:24 PM

Novice question here: are the tax credits transferrable and/or refundable if the entity's tax burden is lower than the amount?
